LANGDON PUBLIC LIBRARY

To the Citizens of Newington :

The Library Trustees herewith submit the forty-sixth annual report with financial statement, and librarian's report, for the year ending Jan. 1, 1938.

Owing to the lower rate of interest on all investments, at the present time, we find less money available, however, we have been able to make minor repairs, also renew magazines and periodicals, and purchase books as far as our means would allow. The money on hand at this time will enable us to pay the usual bills until the interest on the funds become due throughout the year.

Last year we were fortunate in having a little surplus which was used for needed improvements on the interior of the library.

Newington has reason to be proud of Langdon Library with its many worth while books and magazines and the large circulation during the year.

The faithfulness and cooperation shown by our librarian with the schools is helpful, as the children cannot fail to derive much pleasure and profit from the service rendered.

The number of juvenile books in circulation both of fiction and non-fiction shows continued interest. As the library grows in years and usefulness, its aim is to furnish the young people with right books and the habit of reading is continued as they grow older.

We extend our thanks for gifts received from interested friends and for all helpful suggestions.

SCHOOL REPORT

To the Citizens of the Newington
School District:

We submit herewith the annual report of the School Board.

Our Teachers and State Superintendent have been the same as for the preceding year. Margaret Pickering teaching the four lower grades, Marion D. Kenison the four higher grades, George Wilson of Dover, teaching music, and Roy W. Gillmore, helpful and efficient, remaining as Superintendent, with headquarters at Hampton.

The physical welfare of the school children has been in charge of Eloise B. Sheehy, of Newfields, whom we feel deserves special mention, having ingratiated herself with parents and children alike, from the start.

There has been ample evidence during the past school year of a new interest being taken in school affairs by the people of the district, which is extremely gratifying. Permanent sand boxes have been built for the boys and girls and filled with nice clean sand. Three pieces of standard playground equipment have been purchased and are being put in good condition for the spring, all without a cent of expense to the district. To all those who have participated in this project we extend our sincere thanks.

Another innovation is the Newington Parent-Teachers Association, organized in the fall, for the purpose of bringing the parents and teachers into a closer relationship and to promote a better understanding of the problems which are continually arising. Several very successful and well attended meetings have been held, where school affairs have been discussed in the most friendly manner and plans made for future improvements. Any citizen interested in school affairs, whether or not they have children attending school, is welcome to attend these meetings. Mothers are especially invited to join the association.

Our school feels the lack of a third teacher severely, and while the cost, unfortunately, has to be considered, it should not be our first and only consideration. We cannot afford to have our children start out in the world to day to earn their own living handicapped, or to have them discouraged from securing all the education they can, on finding that they were inadequately prepared for advancement. One solution for this problem would be to send the eighth grade pupils to Portsmouth. The cost to the district would, ordinarily, be less than expense of a third teacher and the preparation of the pupil more complete.

Respectfully submitted,

PERCY E. deROCHEMONT,
J. MANNING HOYT,
HELEN V. COLEMAN,

School Board.

SCHOOL REPORT

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the Schoolboard of Newington:

I herewith submit to you my eighth report as superintendent of your schools.

The number of children enrolled in the schools of Newington, increased yearly from 1930 to 1937 as shown in the following table.

Table of average membership by years

1830	1931	1932	1933	1934	1935	1936	1937
44	45	54	58	57	57	59	64

Table of total enrollment by years

60	58	71	68	70	71	71	73

The total number of different pupils attending school each year increased from 60 to 73. When the enrollment in one room became 48, it seemed that an additional teacher must be engaged if we were to render service at all commensurate with the cost of the schools. For this reason, Mrs. Gaudreau was employed for the remainder of the year.

Since the enrollment is less this year and the rooms more evenly divided, two teachers are carrying on the work of the eight grades.

The school budget for 1937-1938, printed in last year's report, subtracted from the amount of money required for maintenance of the schools $517.76. This is the amount demanded for state aid. The check received however was $54.45 less than this amount.

Although the amount of the budget approved by the state increased by $37.06, two factors decreased the amount received. The money voted by the legislature for school aid is limited. As the demands have increased above the sum appropriated, proportionate reduction must take place. The second factor is an increase in the equalized valuation of Newington for the year 1937. These changes mean that the aid check received December 1937 amounted to $463.31. This reduction could not have been foreseen. It means that the amount so lost must be added to next year's budget.

It is of interest to note that the per pupil cost of operating the schools of Newington for the year 1936-1937 was $68.91, whereas that of one and two years ago was $75.03 and $73.81 respectively. This is, of course, partly the result of larger enrollment, but it does prove that the schools are being operated economically. The average per pupil cost for the entire state was $77.16.

A decided step forward has been taken by the formation of a Parent-Teacher Association in Newington. Parents interested in the schools and their welfare mean much to teachers and pupils alike. When school officers know that they have the support of an interested group of citizens, much can be accomplished. I bespeak for this organization the active cooperation of all parents and citizens of Newington. It will do much for your school.

The table below shows the degree to which the pupils use the school opportunity furnished to them by the people of Newington.

	1930	1931	1932	1933	1934	1935	1936	1937
% of atten.	92.43	90.90	92.85	89.23	92.35	91.38	92.10	92.34
No. Tardy	165	195	134	150	129	58	40	44

Broadening the base for transportation, considerably reduced the number of tardinesses; in fact, cut it from two-thirds to three-fourths of its former record. It seems, however, to have had little effect upon the rate of attendance. When a town spends its money to furnish transportation, the expectation is that pupils will thereby attend school more regularly, thus making failures less likely and thereby giving a definite return upon the investment. To the extent that this result fails to materialize the money thus spent is wasted. I again bespeak the cooperation of parents in seeing that their children attend school every school day.

We are using this year, as in former years, the same standardized tests that are used in Portsmouth, the school which most of our graduates later attend. This practice results in lessening the shock that is inevitable with a change of school systems. These tests also make grading purely objective and eliminate personal judgment from the picture.

The work of Mrs. Sheehy, our school nurse, is approved I am sure, by parents and school officials alike. She is always watchful of the health of our children and has given generously of her time for home calls and follow-up work. The value of a school nurse to our children cannot be estimated in terms of money. Her report is printed herewith and deserves careful reading.

Mr. George Wilson, our music instructor, is arousing the interest of our pupils in singing. He is popular with them and understands the young mind.

Occasionally, equipment should be purchased for the school pupils, which the people as a group feel that they cannot buy. In Newington, this seemed to be the situation in regard to playground equipment. It was then that interested citizens came to the rescue and succeeded in securing much needed equipment. The value of this in stimulating physical exercise and in the development of the school morale will be ever increasing. To the citizens who thus proved their interest in the welfare of the children, go the thanks of the children and the school officials as also, I am sure, of the parents.

The record of our last year's graduates who are now attending Portsmouth Junior High School is a credit to the school. At the present time there is no failing work among these pupils. They earn approximately thirty ranks each term. The second ranking period shows that the average rank of the entire class is 80%. There is no doubt but that the work of our teachers is producing the desired results.

To you, as a school board, I wish again to express my thanks for continued help and guidance in the duties of my office.

Respectfully submitted,
ROY W. GILLMORE,
Superintendent of Schools.
